

Hannah Kilcoyne

hannah2468@gmail.com | (+44)7449504449 | <https://hannah-kilcoyne.github.io/index.html>

Education & Qualifications

Pembroke College, University of Oxford (2024-2025)

- Degree: Distinction, MSc Japanese Studies
- Scholarship: Nissan Institute Scholarship
  - Thesis title – ‘Queer identities across languages & translation as queer methodology: Reading Kawano Megumi’s Blue (2023)’

Pembroke College, University of Cambridge (2017-2020)

- Degree: First Class Honours, BA English
- Awards: Foundation Scholarship, Hansen Prize (for outstanding performance in the Arts), Foundation Prize
  - Final-year dissertation title – ‘Jazz, gender, and the human body in Toni Morrison’s Jazz (1992) and Jackie Kay’s Trumpet (1998)’

Japanese-Language Proficiency Test (2025)

- Level: N2

Experience with Japanese

Icknield Community College, Watlington – Japanese Teacher (2025 -present)

- primary educator for student undertaking Japanese GCSE

Oxford Translates Summer School (2026)

- attended the Japanese to English workshops, tutored by Polly Barton and Morgan Giles

Bristol Translates Summer School (2025)

- Awarded full scholarship – attended the Japanese to English workshops, tutored by Polly Barton and Morgan Giles

Translation Work for BBC Radio 4 (2025)

- translated interview excerpts used in Episode 1 and Episode 2 of ‘The Secret Map’ (originally aired August 2025)

Queen’s College Translation Exchange Ambassador (2024 - present)

- assisted at / attended multiple events and workshops, including translation exchanges co-led by Polly Barton
- led a Japanese creative translation workshop with a class of year 9 students at a local secondary school

JET Programme, Japan – Assistant Language Teacher (2022 - 2024)

- living and working in Japan, teaching English to Japanese students at both Elementary School and Junior High School levels

Literary Interests

Gender, queerness and the body

- examples: Solo Dance by Li Kotomi, trans. by Arthur Reiji Morris (2018); Where the Wild Ladies Are by Aoko Matsuda, trans. by Polly Barton (2020); Swallows by Natsuo Kirino, trans. by Lisa Hofmann-Kuroda (2018)
- not-yet-translated examples: Blue by Kawano Megumi (2023) and Don’t Laugh at Bodily Gender by Yamazaki Naokola (2020)

Literary sci-fi

- examples: Klara and the Sun by Kazuo Ishiguro (2021); The Word for World is Forest by Ursula K. Le Guin (1972); Ancillary Justice by Ann Leckie (2013); The Memory Police by Yoko Ogawa, trans. by Stephen Snyder (2020)
- not-yet-translated example: I am Not Yet the Wind by Chinami Sasahara (2025)